WHO IS HIDING BEHIND

The idea of YOUFIGHT comes into Fatah Benguenna's mind when he was finishing an educational software of video captures:

"Sport, video games... To combine both with its artistic style is transcendent, and to think outside the box, not for the misplaced vanity of the pioneers, but for the pleasure of surpassing myself when daily life rhymes with challenges.

At the head of the company of expertise in software OpenCap, he wishes at the moment to develop video games for general public.

YOU FIGHT

A MAJOR AND AWARDED INNOVATION : INTEGRATE REALITY

Halfway between virtual reality and augmented reality, this fighting game renews the codes of fighting games by integrating the silhouette of the player into the various maps of the game.

As the default characters in the game, the players can film themselves by following the tutorial with the series of movements required for the game (punches, uppercuts, active guarding, kicks) and find themselves propelled in the video game!

Once their video had been recorded, the simple integration editor of the game YOUFIGHT makes their images playable and characters can interact with the others!

This technologie has been reward at the Indie Garden Assembly at Valenciennes !
